

spirits of our men. I could often dozens of instances did my time permit. On every side the Yankees were received with an enthusiasm almost amounting to frenzy, and never in this war have Confederate soldiers displayed a greater degree of heroism than the army of Oostburg.